Description

This Prize was established by Sir William and Lady Goodfellow to be awarded to students of the Auckland School of Engineering. It commemorates Major James Gordon Goodfellow who after distinguishing himself in his examinations for the Institution of Civil Engineers, served in the British Army during the First World War and was killed in action.

The recipient will be expected to use the greater part of the Prize money for such purposes as will promote his or her development as a professional engineer.

Selection process

- Nomination is made to the Scholarships Office
- The Prize will be awarded by the University of Auckland Council after receiving a recommendation from the Dean of the Faculty of Engineering

Regulations

1. The Prize will be known as the James Gordon Goodfellow Memorial Prize.
2. The value of the Prize will be approximately $1,500.
3. The Prize will be awarded annually for the most distinguished academic performance throughout the entire engineering programme from among those qualifying for admission to the degree of Bachelor of Engineering.
4. The Prize will be awarded by the University of Auckland Council after receiving a recommendation from the Dean of the Faculty of Engineering (or nominee).
5. The University of Auckland Council will not be bound to award the Prize if in any year there is no candidate of sufficient merit.
6. In the event of a tie, the Dean of the Faculty of Engineering (or nominee) shall determine if the Prize may be shared.
7. The University of Auckland Council has the power to amend or vary these regulations provided that there is no departure from the main purpose of the Prize.
