Equity in the News: December 2017-January 2018

Disabilities

Attitudes to children with disability 'must change' Education HQ, 12 January, 2018

Hearing loss didn't stop Kyle Cloete following his passion for making films Stuff, 3 December, 2017

Gender

NZ of the Year and Innovator of the Year finalists include the University of Auckland's Dr Siouxsie Wiles and Jane Harding - One News, 30 January, 2018

Time's Person of the Year 2017 is 'The Silence Breakers' CNN, 6 December, 2017

Female Scientists Report a Horrifying Culture of Sexual Assault Marie Claire, 12 December, 2017

LGBTI

Australia Makes Same-Sex Marriage Legal New York Times, 7 December, 2017

Gender removed from Queensland driver's licences 'following LGBTI complaints' Yahoo News, 12 January, 2018

James Shaw blames New Zealanders' 'silly answers' for ruining LGBT census Newshub, 15 January, 2018

10 years on from Human Rights Commission's inquiry into transgender discrimination NZ Herald, 22 January 2018

Māori

Māori singer Keala Settle's song wins Golden Globe: 'Her mother would be so proud of her' Radio New Zealand, 9 January, 2018

PhD student finds Māori and Pasifika families have inequitable access to resources Māori Television, 11 January, 2018

Maori focus needed for mental health action Waatea News, 16 Jan 2018 [need macron in Māori]

Shakespeare in the Park features Māori leads for first time in North Shore production Stuff, 16 January, 2018

Amazon launches products in New Zealand that speak Te Reo Maori NZ Herald, 18 January, 2018

Academic says te reo 'on life support', Bill English says it's not up to govt to save 'someone else's language' Stuff, 18 January, 2018

Pacific

New grants to be on offer for Pacific youth leaders Radio NZ, 15 January, 2018