

Contents of a First Aid Kit

What you put in the kit should be based on the particular risks of the work carried out at your workplace. For example, if there is a risk of burns you should have appropriate resources for treating them.

As a basic guide, the suggested contents should be:

