Our researchers and teachers

The passion and brilliance of our academics ensure we remain one of the world’s top research universities.

As a member of Australia’s prestigious Group of Eight network, we are among the best universities in the world. You’ll have the opportunity to learn from our inspiring academics who pursue research excellence with the latest innovative technology. It is due to the outstanding calibre of their work that we continue to rank among the top teaching and research universities in the world. Our teachers are leaders in their field and offer progressive curriculum that is consistently fuelled by new research.

What sets the University of Sydney apart?
Exceptional facilities, an innovative edge and the drive to challenge traditional ways of thinking. Our students have the opportunity to be part of this; contributing to research that pushes the boundaries and makes a meaningful, real-world impact.

“The year has really changed me as a person, and enabled me to grow into an independent happy young woman! My experience at university was so much fun, and I have thoroughly enjoyed taking new classes, that I wouldn’t have the opportunity to at my home uni. My lecturers have always been so friendly and helpful, and enabled me to excel in my work. At no point have I regretted my decision to come here and I will definitely be telling everyone about it for the rest of my life!”

Sally Holcombe
University of Exeter, UK

“I work with study abroad students, introducing them to the benefits of experiential learning through unique field trips into some of Australia’s World Heritage listed National Parks. Through this work, I have developed a strong passion for creating transformative learning experiences in wilderness settings, and helping my students to maximise their learning to benefit their future profession and personal life.”

Dr Wayne Cotton
Associate Dean, Teacher Education, School of Education and Social Work

“Tasmanian devils are endangered due to a contagious cancer, a tumour that is passed from animal to animal when they bite each other. My team and I in the School of Life and Environmental Sciences work on the genetics of Tasmanian devils and their tumours. Our research has shown how the tumour is able to evade the immune system and we are introducing new genetic diversity into wild devil populations.”

Professor Katherine Belov
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Global Engagement)
Professor of Comparative Genetics

How to search for a unit of study

We have more than 2500 units of study available. We’ve made the search easier for you by creating units of study (subject) lists to help you find subjects. From discipline specific to thematic lists, you can easily navigate our units of study, using this handy tool.

Step 1

You can use our unit tools to find your desired options:
- sydney.edu.au/sydney-abroad-units

Step 2

Select your preferred list: Master, Thematic or Department. This will take you to a current unit list.

Step 3

Where a unit name piques your interest, follow the link for more information, and it will take you to the unit’s course information page.

A unit of study is a term we use for a subject or class.

“Studying at the University of Sydney is an amazing opportunity. Not only do you get the chance to meet lots of new people, but you also get the chance to study really interesting modules that you cannot study anywhere else. Sydney is an amazing city and there is so much to do!”

Caitlin Thomson
University of Nottingham, UK
Semester programs

We have many options available for both undergraduate and postgraduate students wishing to study at Sydney. Students coming for semester 1 or 2 need to enrol in a full-time load of 18–24 credit points.

Study Abroad

Every year, we welcome hundreds of students who participate in one of our study abroad programs. Some come for our academic reputation and wide range of courses, while others come to experience our vibrant student life bolstered by our guaranteed accommodation and unique internship program. Students can come for 1 or 2 semesters and tuition fees apply.

2022 Study Abroad tuition*

$12,300 AUD for 24 credit points
$9225 AUD for 18 credit points

– sydney.edu.au/inbound-programs

* Most units are worth 6 credit points and students must have permission from their home institution for 18 credit point study load.

Exchange

We have exchange programs with more than 250 partner universities in over 40 countries. If you’re enrolled at one of our international partner universities, you may be eligible to apply for exchange. When you come as an exchange student, your tuition fees are paid to your home university while you study at Sydney.

If your home university has a partnership with us, you first need to apply to your home university’s international exchange program. You will need to be nominated by your home university before applying to the University of Sydney. Once your nomination is confirmed, we welcome you to follow the steps on how to apply.

Consult our Global Mobility Database to find out if your home university is one of our exchange partners.

– sydney.edu.au/study/overseas-programs

Short term

Each unit of study is taught in an intensive format while maintaining credit point values and academic integrity. Most unit of study options are taught alongside full-degree students and provide hands-on experiential learning in an Australian cultural context. Students can enrol in either 1 or 2 units of study.

Short term fees*

1 unit of study $3075 AUD
2 units of study $6150 AUD

– sydney.edu.au/inbound-programs-short-term

*Indicative rate for 2022.

Gap and first year students

For those just finishing secondary school or in their first year of university study, this program is an excellent way to earn credit at the University of Sydney. With over 180 semester-long units of study with no pre-requisites or assumed knowledge, you’re spoilt for choice. Gap and first year applicants are assessed on their secondary qualification and need to meet our English language entry requirements.

– sydney.edu.au/inbound-programs-gap-first-year

Spring friendly semester

This program aligns with the northern hemisphere Spring semester, allowing students to study a full semester worth of credit and return home in time for summer internships. Spring friendly students choose 1 unit of study from our Summer session (Jan or Feb) and 3 units from Semester 1.

– sydney.edu.au/inbound-programs-spring-friendly

“...the University of Sydney short term study abroad program is the perfect way to experience a new country and explore Sydney. The staff are very friendly and the opportunity to take a class and have an internship is the perfect combination for a summer trip.”

Rachel Kipper
Kansas State University, USA
Internships

Combining your study abroad experience with an international internship can help you stand out in a competitive job market.

Complement your academic study with relevant industry or research experience via our internship program. Interns complete a minimum of 120 hours in an industry or research placement with one of our many partners or academics. The Internship unit of study is worth 6 credit points, and is taken alongside your other units of study.

There are four intakes:

- Summer: January-February (6 weeks)
- Semester 1: February-June (13 weeks)
- Short Term A: June-July (7 weeks)
- Semester 2: August-November (13 weeks)

Parallel to your work or research placement are four professional development workshops, academic reading and a range of assessments, including a final project report.

Placement is competitive and based on key performance indicators such as GPA, prior academic studies, as well as the interests of the applicant and host. Though every effort is made to place all eligible applicants, placement is not guaranteed.

For more information on types of internships, eligibility and how to apply, please visit our website: sydney.edu.au/study-abroad-internships.

“Meeting people from all around the world in a beautiful country and city. The best class I took was one of the electives (Outdoor Education) and it was an amazing experience! Being able to go on a field trip to the Royal National Park and camp in the Blue Mountains for a class was an opportunity I’ve never had before and I was actually sad when the class was over. Our instructor was also an incredibly kind and passionate teacher, which made the experience even better.”

Zoe Martin
University of Toronto, Canada

“My internship in events at The Cancer Council through the University of Sydney helped me realize my interests in healthcare communications, marketing, and events, and set me up well for my job search after college. The summer I returned from Sydney, I worked at a healthcare nonprofit providing invaluable care for people living with HIV in New York City, and I just started a post-grad role in marketing at Real Chemistry, a global health communications agency based in San Francisco.”

How to apply

Step 1: Check if your home university has a partnership with the University of Sydney
If they do, you need to contact your home university. They will then contact us to nominate you.
– sydney.edu.au/study/overseas-programs

Step 2: Search Study Abroad or Exchange, and find your course
Your course will differ depending upon your nomination, program (Study Abroad or Exchange), level of study (undergraduate or postgraduate), and duration (one or two semesters). For Short term programs, please use the Undergraduate Study Abroad Program (One Semester) course:
– sydney.edu.au/courses

Step 3: Access your online application
Click Apply on the course page to start your application. You can save and return to it later.

Step 4: Submit your application
You should include:
– Your current transcript
– Evidence you have met our English entry requirements
– Evidence of Identity
– Your unit of study preferences

Step 5: Your offer letter
Your application will be assessed and if successful, you will receive your offer letter via email.

Step 6: Accept your offer, and if applicable, pay your tuition and OSHC
Log in to your Sydney Student and respond to your offer. If applicable, you need to pay your tuition, deposit and/or overseas student health cover (OSHC).

Step 7: Receive your Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE)
You need your CoE for your visa application.

Step 8: Confirm your visa and start planning your travel to Sydney!
Ensure you arrive before Orientation.

Eligibility

Before you apply, please make sure that you understand our eligibility criteria.

– Nomination from your home university if they are an exchange partner of the University of Sydney
– You need to have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 point scale, or an average grade of ‘C’ or better on the European ECTS grading scale (or equivalent)
– Meet the English entry requirements as outlined on the website.

Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC)
Health insurance is compulsory for most international students who are studying in Australia. It is a condition of your student visa that you maintain Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the duration of your studies in Australia. This cover needs to be arranged before you can apply for your student visa.

For more information on how to arrange your health cover, visit the website.

Choosing where to live will be one of the biggest decisions you’ll make after deciding to study in Australia. We provide peace of mind in finding a place to live by offering our students guaranteed accommodation in student accommodation buildings within a 15 minute walk to campus and located on the doorstep of downtown Sydney. We have negotiated a special 20-week contract rate for Study Abroad and Exchange students at most of our preferred properties. Contracts start the week before Orientation and finish the week after the final exam period, meaning students don’t pay for additional weeks they won’t use. Your study abroad adviser will provide more information on where to live, costs, and other accommodation details.

There are a number of accommodation options as part of our guaranteed offer to study abroad and exchange students, including:

- University residences
- Residential colleges
- Independently-run student housing

Our Accommodation Services website is a great place to get started. You will find helpful advice on where to live, costs, and other accommodation information.

"When reflecting on whether or not I think it was worth it to do the internship while here in Sydney, I believe I made the 100% correct decision. Although it did take away some of my time at the beach and it was a lot of work. It really did benefit me more than any other class would have at Uni. I would definitely recommend to anyone to do an internship when coming to Sydney."

Student support services

When you get to the University of Sydney, you’ll have plenty of help. Here are just a few of the services we offer to support your health, wellbeing and academic achievement.
“Sydney is absolutely amazing. The people are great, the nature and places are great. When the weather starts to warm up, I cannot think of a better place to be. I strongly recommend it to everyone considering going on exchange!”

Mari Senstad
University of Bergen, Norway

“Studying at University of Sydney has been a once in a lifetime experience. The academia was rigorous and engaging, and provided me with a broader scope of knowledge and experience. From the first day, the University of Sydney staff and faculty made this campus feel open and comfortable, making me feel less anxious about being far from home. I’ve had countless incredible experiences here with the friends I’ve made, and will remember my time here with so much joy and nostalgia. I’ll never be ready to leave, and I’ll always be ready to return.”

Amanda Davis
UNC Chapel Hill, USA

“Excellent education, beautiful destination and an experience of a lifetime! My time at the University of Sydney has given me friends, memories and stories that I’ll bring back with me to Groningen.”

Hyfa Sunil Azeez
University of Groningen, Netherlands
