First ever engineering revue

For the first time in its one hundred year history, the Faculty of Engineering presented an engineering revue at the Maidment Theatre.

The breakthrough of the word paintings of 1954-55 coincided with the artist’s move from the South Island to Titirangi and these achievements will be contextualised by Associate-Professor Peter Simpson (English) at the Writers’ and Readers’ Festival in the session devoted to his book on Thursday 15 May at 4.30pm.
