Choose Auckland

Choose Auckland as your destination and The University of Auckland as your place to study. The University of Auckland is New Zealand’s leading university and we are highly regarded for our quality programmes and our teaching environment.

Keeing up with the increasing numbers of students from overseas, Auckland has launched the Auckland Professional Development strategy, which is designed to ensure excellence in professional development and the stimulating environment for study overseas at The University of Auckland.

Piha beach (pictured) is located on Auckland’s west coast and is a popular surf spot for both beginner and experienced surfers, and a popular summer spot for swimming and enjoying the sun. Adjacent to Piha beach is the Waitakere Ranges where you can enjoy scenic bush walks and views. The snow slopes of Mt Ruapehu are only a few hours drive from Auckland and popular holiday spots are in easy reach.

Auckland’s location and infrastructure means you can enjoy all the modern conveniences of a cosmopolitan city while surrounding yourself within a unique and natural landscape. You can take advantage of a diverse range of facilities and activities without travelling long distances which means you can pack a lot into one day (or as little as you like). Choose to study at The University of Auckland and you’ll find there is always something to do and plenty of fun to be had.

Because my partner is from New Zealand, I was drawn to the fact that in New Zealand I felt wanted to teach here in a country that is different culture and live the beach and the outdoors. Because it is an intensive one-year programme I was keen on teaching, and my parents for getting a job when I was finished were always smart. The University of Auckland understands study requirements and the practical needs of students, and offers assistance with all the relevant information, as well as the opportunity to learn more about the culture and the lifestyle. As a result, I was able to find a teaching position easily before I even finished the programme.

My professors and lecturers were very approachable and helpful and were ready to understand the challenges of being an international student and living in a different country. I’m really enjoying teaching, and the space of low cost means that I have a lot of freedom in fact. I loved. Every day is awesome.”
