You are a registered Medical Imaging Technologist

Do you have a clinical training position in ultrasound in New Zealand*?

Yes

You may apply on-line to be admitted to the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) programme.

You will need to provide:
- evidence of your medical imaging qualification,
- your MRTB registration number,
- a completed University of Auckland Clinical Training Position Agreement

Once admitted to the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) programme you must apply to the Medical Radiation Technologists Board (MRTB) for registration in a Training Scope of Practice (Ultrasound), providing evidence of your enrolment in the programme.

No

You may apply on-line to be admitted to the PGCertHSc (Medical Imaging) programme.

You may begin your study while you seek your clinical training position and may transfer your enrolment across to the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) once you have secured your clinical position.

Should this not occur before you have successfully completed four courses, you will be eligible to graduate with a completed qualification.

You may be eligible to transfer this qualification into the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) should you subsequently obtain your clinical training position within a period of 5 years.

*If you are an international student please contact the Faculty Student Centre at fmhs@auckland.ac.nz for individual advice.

For those interested in pursuing a career in ultrasound and who are NOT Medical Imaging technologists, please follow the process overleaf.
You are NOT a registered Medical Imaging Technologist

Do you have an undergraduate degree from a health science related field or allied health profession such as nursing or physiotherapy?

Yes

You will need to contact the MI Clinical Liaison Team to ascertain your eligibility for admission to the clinical ultrasound programme: MiClinical@auckland.ac.nz

Are you eligible to be admitted to the clinical ultrasound programme?

No

You will need to gain a Medical Imaging undergraduate degree to be best placed to obtain a clinical training position in ultrasound and you will then be eligible to apply to the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound).

From 2018, this qualification will be offered by the University of Auckland. Students for the BMedImag(Hons) programme will be selected from applicants who:

- have completed Year 1 of the Bachelor of Science (Biomedical Science) at the University of Auckland, or
- have completed a relevant degree such as science, health sciences or biomedical science within 5 years.

No

Do you have a clinical training position in ultrasound?

Yes

You may apply on-line to be admitted to the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) programme.

You will need to provide:
- evidence of your qualification,
- your registration number* (if applicable)
- a completed University of Auckland Clinical Training Position Agreement

No

*Regulatory Authority number e.g. Nursing Council, Physiotherapy Board

You may apply on-line to be admitted to the generic PGCertHSc programme. When applying for this programme, please select ‘Health Sciences’ as your plan.

You may begin your study while you seek your clinical training position and may transfer your enrolment across to the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) once you have secured your clinical position.

Should you not secure a clinical position before you have successfully complete four courses, you will be eligible to graduate with the completed PGCertHSc qualification.

You can cross-credit this qualification into the PGDipHSc (Ultrasound) should you subsequently obtain your clinical training position within a period of 5 years.