

LIST OF STUDENT CONTRIBUTORS

ADITYA BASRUR graduated with a BA/LLB (Hons) from the University of Auckland in 2006 (where he won the Stout Shield and Senior Prizes in Law, French, and History, and was Editor-in-Chief of the Auckland University Law Review) and LLM from Columbia University in New York in 2011 (as a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar). Between Auckland and Columbia, he worked briefly in Auckland as part of the legal team at Westpac Banking Corporation and then for three years at Maples and Calder in Dubai. Following graduation from Columbia, Aditya was an associate at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP in New York from 2011-2015, where he focused on mergers and acquisitions. He commenced studies towards an MPhil in Economic and Social History at the University of Cambridge in October 2015. He has been a member of the Auckland University Law Review Advisory Board since its foundation in 2006.

LOUISA BOYD graduated from the University of Auckland with an MSc in 1998 and LLB (Hons) in 2007. After graduating, Louisa worked in the tax teams of two top tier firms and, to broaden her skills, a small general practice firm. Recently, seeking a new challenge, she acquired a small business in suburbia. Being a lawyer provided her with many interesting experiences and good organisational skills, which are invaluable to running a small business.

LUKE FACER graduated from the University of Auckland in 2005 with a BCom/LLB (Hons). From 2005 to 2010 he worked as a tax attorney at Russell McVeagh in Auckland and Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP in New York. Since 2010 he has been working at Orion Health, a global healthcare IT company. As Orion Health's Group General Counsel he was instrumental in leading the listing of the company on the NZX and ASX. He sits on Orion Health's executive team and also leads Assurance, Security and Risk. Luke is on the executive of the Listed Companies Association. He lives in Auckland with his wife (an Auckland Law School alumna) Autumn and their four children.

THOMAS FAULLS graduated from the University of Auckland in 2012 with a BCom/LLB (Hons), majoring in Economics. He is currently a solicitor at Bell Gully, where he provides advice in relation to competition law and regulatory matters.

KEEFE HAN graduated from the University of Auckland with a BCom/LLB (Hons) in 2009. He has been admitted to the New Zealand Bar (2009) and to the Singapore Bar (2014) and is currently an associate with a leading law firm in Singapore.

CHYE-CHING HUANG is a Senior Tax Policy Analyst at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, a non-partisan think tank in Washington, DC. Her work focuses on the fiscal and economic effects of US federal tax policy. She has previously worked as a Senior Lecturer at the University of Auckland, a tax solicitor at Chapman Tripp, and a researcher at the New Zealand Institute (a think tank formerly based in Auckland). She holds an LLM from Columbia Law School as a James Kent Scholar, Fulbright Scholar, and Sir Wallace Rowling Memorial Scholar, and a BCom (Economics) and LLB (Hons) conjoint degree from the University of Auckland.

PATRICIA MENG SAN IEONG graduated BCom/LLB (Hons) from the University of Auckland in 2011. After graduation, Patricia completed two years as a Judges' Clerk at the Auckland High Court and two years as an Assistant Crown Counsel in the Revenue team at Crown Law. She is currently working in the tax team at Chapman Tripp.

CHRISTOPHER JENKINS graduated BCom/LLB (Hons) from the University of Auckland in 2011. He then worked as a solicitor in the litigation and tax teams at Russell McVeagh, leaving in 2012 to undertake postgraduate studies as a Woolf Fisher Scholar at the University of Cambridge. He completed his LLM in 2013, with his thesis supervised by Professor Peter Harris, and stayed on as a PhD candidate, under the supervision of Professor Christopher Forsyth.

NICOLA JONES graduated with conjoint BCom/LLB (Hons) and BCom (Hons) degrees from the University of Auckland in 2005. Since graduating, she has worked at PricewaterhouseCoopers in Auckland where she is now a director in the corporate tax team, with a particular focus on international tax. (The views presented in the chapter in this volume represent those of Nicola Jones, and not of PricewaterhouseCoopers.)

OGY KABZAMALOV completed a conjoint BA/LLB (Hons) degree at the University of Auckland in 2009 and wrote his dissertation under the supervision of Dr Michael Littlewood. He worked for six years as a tax solicitor at Bell Gully, a commercial law firm in New Zealand, and is currently working as a tax associate in the London offices of Vinson and Elkins, a US law firm.

JOANNA KHOO completed her dissertation under Michael's supervision in 2005 and graduated BCom/LLB (Hons) from the University of Auckland in 2006. In 2010, she completed her LLM at the University of Auckland. She has published articles in various journals, including the New Zealand Journal of Taxation Law and Policy, the Australian Tax Forum, the Hong Kong Law Journal and the Cambridge Student Law Review (now the Cambridge Journal of International and Comparative Law). Joanna currently works at Russell McVeagh in Auckland.

SABRINA MUCK graduated with a BA/LLB (Hons) from the University of Auckland in 2005. She is a Senior Solicitor in the Private Client practice at Chapman Tripp, where she advises on trust matters for domestic and offshore-based clients. Sabrina is an Associate Member of STEP (the Society of Trusts and Estates Practitioners) and has previously practised in the area of tax law.

PHIL NORTON is currently an Associate Partner at Aon Hewitt in London, having left New Zealand to join Clyde & Co's London tax team in 2007. Before moving to London Phil was a Senior Solicitor in the tax team at Bell Gully where he worked from qualification. Phil holds a BCom/LLB (Hons) and a DipCom from the University of Auckland. Since being in London Phil has taken the opportunity to dual qualify as a solicitor in England and Wales, has qualified as a Chartered Tax Adviser with the Chartered Institute of Taxation, and holds the Advanced Diploma in International Taxation.

KYLE RAINSFORD is a tax associate at Addleshaw Goddard in London. He holds an LLM (Tax) from the London School of Economics and an LLB (Hons) and BSc from the University of Auckland. He has previously worked at Chapman Tripp in Auckland and Wellington as a tax solicitor.

JAMES RUDELL is currently a pupil barrister at One Essex Court, London. He graduated from the University of Auckland with a BA/LLB (Hons) degree in 2013 (receiving the Auckland District Law Society Prize as the top graduating student in the year). After working briefly in Auckland as a solicitor, he pursued further study at the University of Oxford. He was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law (BCL) with distinction in 2014, also graduating as Vinerian Scholar, following which he worked at Bell Gully in Wellington.

ANNIE STEEL (NÉE CHO) graduated with a BA/LLB (Hons) from the University of Auckland (with a Senior Prize in law, prizes for the top students in her year in Torts, Contracts and Corporate law and as Senior Scholar in Chinese). She is admitted as a barrister and solicitor of the High Court of New Zealand. Annie is a Senior Associate at Harnos Horton Lusk Limited, where she has been since 2008, and specialises in mergers and acquisitions. Before joining Harnos Horton Lusk, Annie was a solicitor in Bell Gully's corporate team.

SEHJ VATHER graduated from the University of Auckland in 2008 with degrees in Law and Commerce. After two and a half years in Bell Gully's tax group, he entered Stanford Law School's LLM programme, from which he graduated in 2011. He is currently an attorney in the tax group of Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, a New York law firm.

JINGJING (ALICE) WANG is a Rhodes Scholar studying Public Policy at the University of Oxford's Blavatnik School of Government. She is a Light Senior Scholar at St Catherine's College and holds an MSc in Economics for Development from Oxford. She completed her BA/LLB (Hons) at the University of Auckland (where she was awarded the Auckland District Law Society Prize as the top graduating student in the year, as well as Senior Prizes in Law and Economics) and subsequently clerked for Justice William Young at the Supreme Court of New Zealand. She has published articles in the New Zealand Journal of Taxation Law and Policy, the New Zealand Business Law Quarterly, the New Zealand Law Journal, and the Auckland University Law Review.