Ethnicity/Ancestry
Ethnicity is the ethnic group or groups that people identify with or feel they belong to, and is a measure of cultural affiliation, as opposed to race, ancestry, nationality or citizenship. Ethnicity is self-perceived and people can belong to more than one ethnic group. A person’s ethnicity may not necessarily match their ancestry. Ancestry is a biological and historical concept and refers to a person's blood descent. You are eligible for consideration under the TAS (Pacific) if you are of indigenous Pacific Island ancestry, and are a citizen or permanent resident of New Zealand.

Pacific Islands:
For the purposes of TAS (Pacific), the Pacific Islands category includes Samoa, American Samoa, Tonga, Cook Islands, Niue, Tokelau, Fiji, Rotuma, Solomon Islands, New Caledonia, Papua New Guinea, Kiribati, Tuvalu, Palau, Marshall Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Wallis and Futuna, Hawai’i, French Polynesia, Rapanui (Easter Island).

Indigeneity:
Indigenous Pacific Islanders are the native, original inhabitants of these islands.

Certification of Ancestry
The certification of your indigenous Pacific Island ancestry must be completed by a Church Elder, Community Leader, or Chief who knows your family, or a Justice of the Peace, or Solicitor. The Certifier must be of Pacific Island descent (excluding the Justice of the Peace/Solicitor) and cannot be your sibling, spouse, parent or grandparent.

Should it be necessary to seek clarification of any of the information submitted, we will contact the named certifier. TAS (Pacific) eligibility will not be considered until this form has been completed and any verification concerns have been addressed.

PERSONAL STATEMENT

The TAS (Pacific) exists to address issues of under-representation of Pacific people within the Law Faculty, and also within the New Zealand legal community. It is essential, therefore, that applicants admitted under this scheme are willing and able to use the skills and knowledge they will acquire through their studies to benefit Pacific people. This can be done in many ways, for example, through positive role modelling, community involvement, or advocacy. The following question will help the TAS (Pacific) committee assess your motivation and ability to contribute to this objective.

5. Outline your identification with your Pacific community, including, if appropriate, knowledge of language, participation in community activities and other ways in which you are involved in or identify with your community of origin.

*Note: You may use and attach additional sheets of paper if necessary. You must attach relevant documentation to support your statement (e.g. references, certificates, letters of recommendation, photographs).
DECLARATION (to be signed by ALL students):

I consent to the information which I have provided being used for the purposes of The Faculty of Law selections and, if appropriate, the establishment of the academic support schemes. I understand that the information will be confidential to members of the Selection Committee, interviewing panels, Law School administrative staff and Co-ordinators of the support schemes, and will not be used for purposes other than determining eligibility to be selected and enrol for LLB Part II, for the establishment of the support schemes and for other enrolment-related purposes.
