The screenshot shows the University of Auckland library catalogue search results for the query "bryder tuberculosis". The interface includes a search bar at the top with the query and a search button. Below the search bar, there are navigation tabs for "Search all", "Databases", "Journals", and "Collection discovery".

On the left side, there is a sidebar with various filters. The "Active filters" section shows "Peer-reviewed Journals" which is locked (indicated by a red lock icon). Other filters include "Remember all filters", "Reset filters", "Refine your results", "Sort by Relevance", "Availability" (Full Text Online, Open Access), "Date" (1984 to 2016), "Format" (Articles, Book Chapters, Books, Newspapers search), "Subject" (Arts & Humanities, History, Tuberculosis, etc.), "Library", "Author/Contributor", "Language", and "Journal Title".

The search results are displayed in a list format. Each result includes a small icon, a numbered box (1-6), a title, author, publisher, and format. Quick action links (email, pin, etc.) are visible for each result. The first result is an article titled "Pioneers in medicine and their impact on tuberculosis" by Linda Bryder. The second result is a book titled "Below the magic mountain : a social history of tuberculosis in twentieth-century Britain" by Linda Bryder. The third result is an article titled "Tuberculosis Then and Now: Perspectives on the History of an Infectious Disease" edited by Linda Bryder, Flurin Condrau, and Michael Worboys. The fourth result is a book titled "A Healthy country : essays on the social history of medicine in New Zealand" by Linda Bryder. The fifth result is a book titled "Tuberculosis then and now : perspectives on the history of an infectious disease" edited by Linda Bryder. The sixth result is an article titled "Discovering Tuberculosis: A Global History, 1900 to the Present" by Christian W. McMillen.
